WILL REGULATE

SPITTOONS IN USE IN DENTISTS' OFFICES.

Plumbing Ordinance to Be Considered by General Council To-morrow Night—Other Work.

Dentists of Louisville will be affected by the ordinance regulating plumbing which is to be considered by the upper board of the General Council at the meeting to-morrow night. The law, it is passed, will require all dentists to have spittoons of a certain kind and have them connected in a certain specified way with the plumbing in the office. Many of the dentists have the required spittoons, but the majority will have to put in the new kind, which has running water. The plumbing ordinance was made a special order for 9 o'clock to-morrow night and will be taken up at that time. It has been read in full and printed, copies being furnished each member of the board, so that a careful study of it could be made. The ordinance has been carefully prepared by Frank Nolan, the Plumbing Inspector, and the Plumbing Board, and it is probable that it will be passed.

The upper board will also receive a communication from Charles Hermans, superintendent of the Louisville Water Company, relative to the removal of the large water main which crosses Oak street at the point where it is proposed to build a tunnel under the tracks of the L. and N. railroad. This communication was requested by the board at the last meeting and may receive the difficult and delicate work of the City Engineer and the engineers of the railroad are working. The prospect for the tunnel seems to be good, and some action will be taken to-morrow night. The lower board will consider the resolution instructing the Board of Public Works to erect suitable street signs at the intersection of all streets, and will almost certainly adopt it. The upper board will probably hear suggestions as to the best way for constructing the houses in Louisville, the compilers of the city directory having been invited to come before the board.

SLIPPED ON ICE AND FRACTURED SKULL.

O. W. Beadle, Solicitor for Louisville Times, Falls and Is Fatally Injured.

O. W. Beadle, a solicitor for the Louisville Times, slipped on the icy pavement at Preston and Kentucky streets Saturday night and fractured his skull. Mr. Beadle had alighted from a Preston-street car and was making his way to the door when he slipped, his head striking the pavement with great force. His skull was fractured from the center of the forehead to the base of the skull, and Richard Zable's saloon and the City Hospital ambulance was summoned. Mr. Beadle has not regained consciousness, and the physicians at the hospital do not entertain any hopes of his recovery.

Mr. Beadle has a daughter about twenty years old who is seriously ill at her home, and is not strong enough to be told of the accident to her father. Mass will be said at the Church of St. Philip Neri, and the interment will be in St. Michael's cemetery.

WILLIAM T. LENHART DIES SUDDENLY.

William T. Lenhart died yesterday afternoon at his residence, 2709 Floyd street. Mr. Lenhart had been ill for some time, and his death was not unexpected. The funeral will take place this morning at 9 o'clock at the residence. Mass will be said at the Church of St. Philip Neri, and the interment will be in St. Michael's cemetery.

Mrs. Louise Bonham Dead.

Mrs. Louise Bonham, the grandmother of William Devan, a pipeman attached to No. 11 reel company, died yesterday afternoon at her home, 233 Campbell street. Mrs. Bonham was eighty-two years old and had lived in the neighborhood where she died for many years. The funeral will take place Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the residence, burial being in Eastern cemetery.

SUMMEN

Death of Frederick Wunderlich, Former Business Man.

OLD CITIZEN OF NEW ALBANY.

CHANGES IN SOUTHERN INDIANA LEGISLATIVE DISTRICTS.

MADE BY NEW GERRYMANDER.

The funeral of Frederick Wunderlich, one of the oldest business men of New Albany, whose sudden death from heart disease occurred Saturday night at his home, 619 East Spring street, will take place to-morrow afternoon at the residence, under the direction of Pythagoras Lodge of Masons, of which he had been treasurer for more than thirty consecutive years.

Mr. Wunderlich, while slightly indisposed, was able to be at his place of business Saturday night, and went home about 10 o'clock. He was cheerful with his daughters and other members of the family for a few minutes, he retired. Shortly after 11:30 o'clock his grandson, Frederick Michel, who was sleeping in an adjoining room, heard his grandfather apparently struggling for breath. He hastened to his bedside and gave him a drink of water. He was conscious, speaking to the young man, but he died before a physician, hastily summoned, could reach his bedside.

He was born in Saxony seventy-four years ago and came to this country in 1848, when but seventeen years of age. After he had become a successful business man, prominent in social affairs, and in politics, he delighted in relating his experiences when he was a boy. He came to Louisville in 1880, and after a few months after his arrival in this country, from St. Louis to New Albany, being at that time without means with which to pay his way, he secured the only mode of transportation in those days. Finding no opening in New Albany, he crossed the river and, where he secured employment, and in a few years he was one of the prosperous business men of that suburb of Louisville.

His aged wife died last July, and since then he has been in declining health. A few weeks ago he had a severe attack of grip, and it is believed this weakened his heart to the point where he died. He leaves two daughters, Mrs. Mary Michel and Miss Delia Wunderlich; three granddaughters, Miss Eleanor and Ida Michel and Frederick Michel.

MEMBERS OF SINKING FUND

To Be Elected By Council To-night.

At the meeting of the New Albany Common Council to-night, the body will elect the members of the Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners. The members of the board, who will be elected, are: George B. Boring, ex-parte to-day. Under the provisions of the State constitution, the board must be nonpartisan and composed of one Democrat and one Republican. John S. McDonald has been selected by the Democratic members of the council, and he will receive the unanimous vote of the Council.

It could not be learned just who the Democratic member will be, but it is understood that the choice lies between George Boring, cashier of the New Albany National Bank, who has ably filled the position for years, and George Moser, president of the New Albany Trust Company.

TRAFFIC DELAYED

By Delayed Freight Cars on Southern Road.

Traffic was suspended on the eastern end of the Louisville-St. Louis division of the Southern railway yesterday for several hours on account of two freight cars having become derailed in the Edgewood yards. The freight cars, which were loaded with coal, were derailed by a freight train which left that city at 6 o'clock yesterday morning and had two box cars derailed about the middle of the turn. Both cars were thrown across the track in such a manner as to render it difficult to get the cars off the track.

The east-bound passenger train was flagged at Duncan, a small station at the western entrance of the tunnel, and telephone messages were sent to New Albany for wagons to be used in transferring the passengers over the Edgewood yards. The work was completed several hours. No one was hurt in the mix-up in the tunnel. A wrecking crew was working to get the cars off the track yesterday the track was clear and traffic resumed.

CHANGES IN DISTRICT.

Floyd County to Be Gerrymandered Out of Senatorial District.

The Republican members of the Indiana Senate and House of Representatives have agreed upon a bill appropriating the county of Floyd to the senatorial district, and this will be introduced to-day in both houses and will probably be passed. It is a political measure throughout, and districts heretofore Democratic will be changed in their political complexion by the gerrymander. Floyd county is given one Representative and taken out of the district.

YOUNGSTERS ENGAGE IN MIMIC WARFARE AS JAPS AND RUSSIANS

Bloody Noses and Scratched Faces the Result of the Conflict, But None Is Seriously Injured.

"You be a Russian and I'll be a Jap, an' we'll fight 'till all be Japs and Russians and let's all fight."

The above was an agreement between a score of little fellows who find homes in the flats along Third avenue, between Walnut street and Broadway, and was a deal in less time than it takes to tell of it. The result was a general war in which it was difficult to award the victory. The forces paired off, each selecting its officers, after which there was a quiet hunt for munitions of war. Brickbats, stones, tin cans and all other missiles not too heavy to be hurled through the air by the uncouth boys were used. When the cans and all other missiles not too heavy to be hurled through the air by the uncouth boys were used. When the cans and all other missiles not too heavy to be hurled through the air by the uncouth boys were used.

The two armies were armed with the two "armies" came together in the open street, and the onslaught, though it lasted but a few minutes, would have put to shame the most gallant band of Kurokathin or Nozi.

The order to charge was given on both sides in a juvenile voice, and there was a charge—not a single "soldier" lagged behind the line. There were no sharp rifle reports, but there were made up for by the juvenile and enthusiastic shouts or "war whoops."

Less than five minutes had passed and the side doors open, and no one had to go to the rear. The boys were "routed with serious loss."

Mont Abbott was believed to be dying of pneumonia at his home near Bethlehem last night. A four-year-old son of the disease and is expected to die.

Peter Rango, who has been ill for several months, died at his home in Scottsburg at the age of sixty-five years. He was well known and leaves a family.

The kitchen of a restaurant at East Court avenue, was entered during Saturday night and a large supply of groceries and furniture were stolen.

The banes of Edward Cowman and Miss Frances Kramer were read yesterday for the second time by the Rev. John of the Joint Representative district with Washington and Clark counties. Harrison has one Representative, Clark one, Crawford and Perry one, Jennings and Scott one and Jackson one. The senatorial district, now represented by Senator Benz, Dubois county has been added to Crawford and Perry.
